

Press Release – 08 March 2024

TOA Corporation (UK) Ltd announce integrated partnership with Eaton.

TOA Corporation (UK) Ltd are delighted to announce that they will be the global partner for Eaton’s Emergency Voice Communications Systems VoCALL5 and VoCALL16.

As a leading manufacturer and designer of voice alarm systems, working on many life safety projects across the globe, TOA will be working with Eaton to offer their voice evacuation products along with Eaton’s EVCS portfolio.

Ian Bridgewater, Managing Director of TOA Corporation (UK) Ltd

“I am delighted to be bringing our two companies together to continue to lead on offering solutions on products that are vital to evacuation in an emergency. The world is changing and as an industry we must address how we ensure safety both with those that can follow voice direction and exit a building to those that need additional assistance. This partnership gives us the opportunity to offer a complete vocal solution to life safety evacuation ensuring confidence that our systems can offer the best in this field. This collaboration with the Eaton product range is the perfect complement to TOA’s voice alarm systems. ”

Colin Smith, OEM Business Development for Eaton

“This partnership shows how passionate we are about solving issues and making evacuation a better and safer experience for all members of the community. You cannot put a price on people’s safety. We are looking forward to working together with TOA to provide the best solutions for emergency communication.”

The Eaton product range will be part of the TOA’s stand, 5/E95 at the Fire Safety Event 2024 at the NEC Birmingham 30 April – 2 May.

For further information please contact:

TOA Marketing: DD 01372 389797 or email marketing@toa.co.uk

